Breathtaking
beach enjoyment on the Fylde Coast

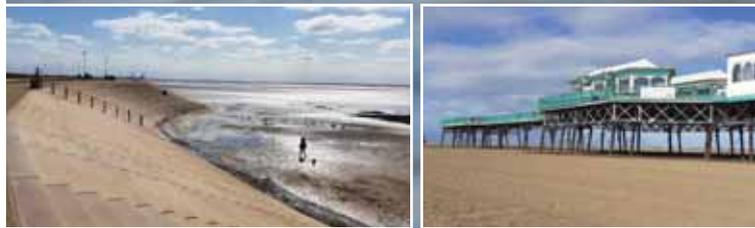

North Beach, St Annes is a great venue for windsports!

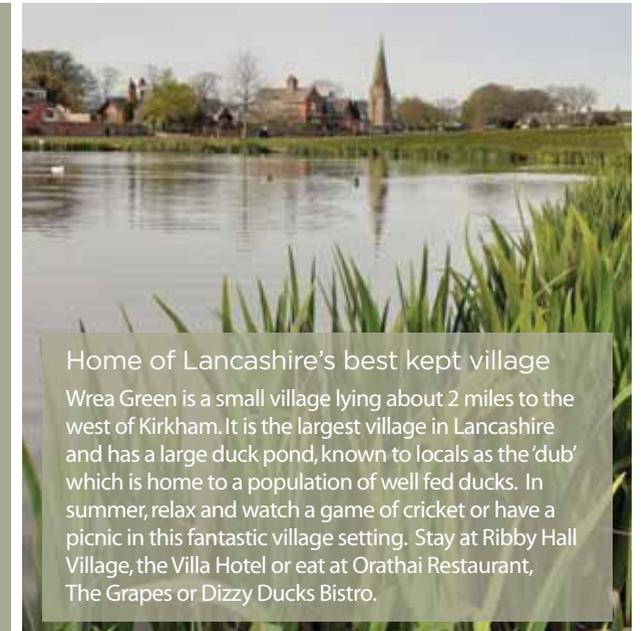

On many days when the weather conditions are right, you'll see many kite surfers using the wind power to travel at speed, perform tricks and jump into the air – it's a spectacular sight to see! On the sand, you may also see land yachting taking place by the St Annes Land Yacht Club, under strict safety measures, in the mini yacht class. Get in touch with them via Facebook (St Annes Landyacht Club) to find out more and to take part in a taster session.

Pop into the dog friendly Beachcomber Café at the North Beach Wind Sports Centre with its adjacent car park. It's a favourite haunt for locals and kite surfers who can enjoy the café's popular Sunday lunches. (Facebook: Beachcomberstannes). Call to book 01253 423150.

RURAL
FYLDE A BREATH
OF FRESH AIR!

Home of Lancashire's best kept village
Wrea Green is a small village lying about 2 miles to the west of Kirkham. It is the largest village in Lancashire and has a large duck pond, known to locals as the 'dub' which is home to a population of well fed ducks. In summer, relax and watch a game of cricket or have a picnic in this fantastic village setting. Stay at Ribby Hall Village, the Villa Hotel or eat at Orathai Restaurant, The Grapes or Dizzy Ducks Bistro.

Pretty villages and towns

Rural Fylde has many quaint villages, tea shops, country lanes and quality places to eat, yet is only a short drive from the coast, the motorway or Blackpool and Preston. Why not visit The Eagle at Weeton, The Ship in Freckleton, The Cartford Inn, Ribby Hall, The Ship at Elswick, The Plough at Staining or The Miller Arms in Singleton to name but a few?

The historic market town of Kirkham appears in the Domesday Book of 1086 under the name of Chicheham.

There are guided Ranger walks and maps available with walks around the area. (Facebook: Fylde Ranger Service).
